My intent for this session is to go to the targ and describe it the best I can. This is the fourth target for this research project.

Summary

(8)

My impression of the target was a vast open scenic scene with major hard stony rocky formation. Much was hard, dry, and arid. The structure may have striped or stragated formation with steps or step like formations attached. Many colors seemed present that even reminded me of a curving rainbow effect - purples, green, blues, peak yellow. The major color however was reddish. Small squeaking animals were perceived. Overall, I felt a sense of peace, solonx, or solitude about this target. Lastly, there was something flat or plateau like at the target.
