The target seems to be hard that is rounded, curvy, flat, hard, smooth. Something seems, white, grey, black, sectioned, dark, ridged, & yellow. An aspect of the target seems to be edged, sharp, pointy, thin & tapering. It seems that something is escalating, formed or foamed, cold, icy, elevated, topped. There could be a pathway or tramway, something rolling, repetitions, continuous. There also seems to be an ^{earthy} unbalanced, uneven, forgotten, feeling associated with the target. Something at the target may be contiguous, duplicated, have depth, tunnelled, foreign and unusual. Also a flowing - movement feeling.

Something about the target feels cloaked,
inconspicuous, specific, unique, strange,
impenetrable, ~~is~~ hidden. and a part of something else.

This last session of the day felt similar to my last one. I felt as tho I wasn't on the signal-line at all.
